

AAT eNews & Views Newsletter

Hello there,

I hope you all made it through the crazy rush of STP Finalisations?

Now that we're all done with submitting them, we can start to work on getting those files ready for year-end reconciliations and BAS. We will be lodging TPARs next month before you know it.

It's true that we do not get a break, but I think it's a good thing since it implies that people will always need our help. Interest rates, petrol prices, and other living expenses are all on the rise, making it difficult for many individuals and businesses to make ends meet. On this basis, some practitioners have to defend price hikes to clients, making it challenging to keep them in particular cases.

I advise trying to avoid the "I can't afford your price rise" pitfall. As a service provider, remember that your costs are likely to have gone up as well.

This month's newsletter is full of important industry news, but I want everyone to read the excellent piece by Jo Voight on digital decluttering. It made me want to make a promise to clean out my inbox, which has been getting a lot bigger lately.

I followed my advice from last month's newsletter and booked not one, but two vacations. Having something to look forward to is just as vital as taking time off.

Have a wonderful month!

Lielette Calleja
Chief Accounting Technician
